LAND OF MILK AND HONEY!

COMMENT

The Reason Why

by Ted Budden

BRITAIN HAS A very good army. It is also one of the smallest armies of any major nation.

It is therefore a frightening example of the supineness and complacency that exists in this country that there has been no public outcry nor even a murmur of discontent over the announcement by Defence Minister Tom King that over a fifth of our small army and most of our armour is to be committed to a potential war in the Gulf from which Britain can derive no benefit whatsoever.

"Theirs not to reason why; theirs but to do or die"; at the whim of some politician, whether it be in the Gulf or in Northern Ireland, for some obscure political motive or wheeling and dealing; that seems to be the attitude.

On Remembrance Day, when the National Front marched to the Cenotaph to honour the dead of two world wars; British troops in Saudi Arabia observed the occasion merely by standing silently to attention since Saudi Arabia does not permit the practise of any religion other than Islam on its soil.

Meanwhile, in Baghdad in the heart of enemy territory, British residents and hostages were holding a Remembrance Day service in the Christian church.

If British troops should be called upon to lay down their lives, ostensibly in order that the wealth of Croesus may be restored to Kuwait's Al Sabah family, it is doubtful whether their bodies could be buried in Saudi Arabia since the Saudis might not permit the sacred soil of Islam to be defiled with the corpses of infidels. Such is the cause to which our soldiers have been so lightly committed.

"They did not die in vain" is the cry parroted every Remembrance Day. Oh yes they did. They always have. Look around you at what Britain has become for proof positive that they all died in vain.

MASSIVE REFUGEE FRAUD HITS BRITAIN

The Immigration Issue!

• CENTRE: Refugees at Heathrow

TWENTY FIVE THOUSAND IMMIGRANTS have arrived in Britain claiming refugee status in the first nine months of this year. It brings the total number of immigrants settling in this country this year to over 80,000. It's the highest immigration total since the Tories came to power in 1979.

The immigrants, from Sri Lanka, Somalia, Ethiopia, Uganda, Zaire, Ghana and India, arrive unannounced at Heathrow Airport claiming political persecution in their country of origin. With Heathrow's immigration officials already snowed under processing authorised immigrants, the refugees are waved through to the Refugee Centre and from there to our towns and cities.

Since 1989 12,000 Somalis have settled in Cardiff and more are destined for Scotland.

The Home Office have increasing evidence that arrivals of asylum-seekers have been organised by middlemen and agencies that specialise in bringing people to Britain.

It's a scandal that the Government should be tackling with all it's resources but Ministers are reluctant to make immigration an issue prior to the General Election.

The National Front will be making immigration the issue at the General Election. Nothing annoys the British public more that being conned - and the Tories have conned the British people right, left and centre over the immigration issue.

The refugee scandal together with the pending arrival of 250,000 settlers from Hong Kong makes a nonsense of the Conservative claim that they are limiting immigration. One Tory MP made no bones about it "We can't claim the refugee problem is back door immigration. It's immigration through the front door and all the authorities know about it".

The National Front will make no bones about it either. The immigrants are economic opportunitists coming to our land of milk and honey to get their slice of the cake. Unless Britain takes drastic steps it won't be our land for much longer and all that will remain of the cake is a few crumbs!

Dye Cast in Sari Row

PREFERENTIAL TREATMENT given by Newcastle Councillors to Asian women in the City has resulted in a British backlash.

Special provisions have been made for Asian women to wear their saris in Newcastle's swimming pools, this despite a strictly inforced rule that no Bermuda shorts or other items of clothing, other than swimsuits, can be worn in the pool.

NF prospective parliamentary candidate for Tynebridge, Mr John Harwood, received numerous complaints regarding one swimming pool at Elswick, where it was claimed that dye from the Asian womens' saris had stained the water.

Mr Harwood organised a petition calling for saris to be been banned from Elswick pool, and in just one day nearly 500 signatures were collected.

Labour councillors attacked Mr Harwood's petition as racist and said he was attempting to divide the community. The NF candidate replied that he was only responding to calls made by local people.

IRA FRONT GETS LABOUR BACKING!

THE TROOPS OUT Movement openly supports the IRA. On their marches in Britain they carry pro-IRA placards and chant IRA slogans. Judges in British courts refer to their marches as 'IRA marches' and Senior Police chiefs acknowledge that the Troops Out Movement is just a front for IRA supporters on the mainland.

It is unthinkable that this organisation should receive the backing of a Labour Member of Parliament. But it has.

Joan Ruddock MP for Lewisham and Deptford has wished the Troops Out Movement well!

In a letter to Rita O'Reilly at the TOM offices dated 1st November, Ruddock sends her apologies for not being able to attend a meeting on November 5th but finishes off the letter "I hope that the meeting goes well".

That an elected MP should be mixing with such IRA supporters is a disgrace. It's an association that all the voters in Lewisham and Deptford must be made aware of before they vote at the next General Election.

Uproar Over Ambulance Recruitment

LANCASHIRE'S AMBULANCE service has come under fire after their latest efforts to recruit ambulancemen from the county's ethnic minorities.

A leaflet advertising ambulance jobs has been produced in Gujarati, Urdu, Bengali and Hindi which flies in the face of the first qualification essential to be accepted into the ambulance service that of being fluent in English.

The ambulance service has been under fire for some time in East Lancashire, where despite an ethnic population of 5% the service can boast only one Asian ambulanceman!

Labour Snubs the Queen

LABOUR COUNCILLORS in Walsall talked, smoked and laughed during toasts to the Queen and the playing of the National Anthem at a Mayoral Banquet at the Town Hall.

The banquet on behalf of African dignitaries cost over £15,000 and such lavish council extravaganzas explains why Walsall's poll tax payers face a bill of £425 each, one of the highest in the West Midlands.

● ED DOOLAN: Appalled.

Local radio personality, Ed Doolan, one of the 350 guests, was appalled at the behaviour of the Councillors, "They refused to show respect to the nation that gives them their privileged position", he said.

Insult to our War Dead

NATIONAL FRONT members in Manchester are leading the campaign to change plans for a new supertram station destined to be built next to the Cenotaph in Manchester's St Peter's Square.

A local NF member said that while he supported the Supertram project to cut down the traffic in the city centre, the planned Metrolink Station should be moved.

"Noise, litter and queues of people will interfere with those relatives who come and pay their respects at the Cenotaph" he told 'The FLAG', "Such insensitive planning is an insult to Britain's War Dead."

● THREATENED: Manchester's Cenotaph.

CHANNEL CREMATORIUM

LEADING FIREFIGHTERS have warned that the Channel Tunnel could become "the largest crematorium in the world" with hundreds of families trapped in their cars and unable to escape being burnt to death.

The Fire Brigade Union will be distributing 100,000 leaflets among cross-Channel passengers warning of the potential catastrophe when the tunnel opens in 1993.

Concern has been raised by the union because families will not be separated from their vehicles which will be carried through the tunnel on railway wagons. The Union's Health and Safety officer, David Matthews, says that the tunnel will never be safe with its present system of transporting passengers.

Fears of a major disaster has prompted the Government-appointed Channel Tunnel Safety Authority to commission its own independent research into car fires, but industry experts say the tests should have been ordered six years ago before the project started.

With November seeing the publication of a report from the Society of Motor Manufacturers concluding that information on car fires is totally inadequate, the National Front once again calls for the filling in of the Channel Tunnel before there is a major disaster.

EDUCATION: FRONT'S 5-POINT PLAN

FALLING EDUCATION standards are the hallmark of schools in Britain today. Unqualified teachers, many brought in from abroad, are becoming the norm as teacher shortages leave school governors little option if they are to offer children any sort of education at all.

Parents are becoming only too well aware that their children are failing to get the sort of education that will see them in good stead in later life, but children, parents and teachers alike are caught in education's vicious circle.

Lack of investment in equipment and buildings, and poor salaries for teachers over the last 20 years have turned our students away from a teaching career.

Now we are left with run-down schools, out of date books and equipment and teachers who give a poor service.

A National Front Government would implement an immediate five point plan to stem the decline in our schools.

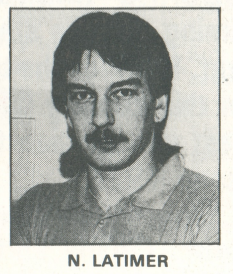
- The introduction of a new pay-scale for teachers to attract the best in their field.
- New qualification restrictions so only the best teachers are entrusted to teach our children.
- An immediate programme of building refurbishment of our schools, colleges and universities.
- Introduction of a national common core curriculum in primary education to ensure the minimum standards of literacy and numeracy are achieved by all children.
- The introduction of a state-run nursery school programme.

Together with the setting up of special schools for Asians, West Indians and Africans until they are returned to their own countries, the scrapping of all crank studies such as peace and homosexual lessons, and, with the introduction of a form of service to the nation, Britain will have an education system that would be the envy of the world.

JUSTICE FOR THE UDR FOUR

W. ALLEN

N. BELL



N. LATIMER

J. HEGAN

FOUR MEMBERS of the Ulster Defence Regiment, Neil Latimer, Noel Bell, James Hegan and Winston Allen were convicted four years ago for the murder of Adrian Carroll in Armagh in November 1983. The main evidence against these men arises from confessions allegedly made while the four were in Police custody at Castlereagh.

National Front publications have highlighted the inconsistencies in the prosecution case for the past 6 months and together with the efforts of the Armagh Four Campaign Committee and a handful of responsible journalists the case has begun to catch the attention of the authorities.

DISCREDITED

The conviction of the four UDR members was gained because of evidence supplied by an unscrupulous and discredited witness known as Witness A.

Two weeks after the shooting Witness A went to her priest, Raymond Murray, and signed seven blank sheets of paper. In a statement to the Police she said she saw Latimer and other UDR soldiers in strange circumstances outside the Technical College in Amargh on the day of the murder. It is this statement that according to the prosecution backs up the alleged confessions and proves the guilt of the UDR 4.

Since the conviction Witness A has made partial retractions of her statement. She now claims that the Police lied to her and tricked her into pointing out an innocent man.

But the four men stayed in prison, victims of a vicious campaign against them. Four men who one day had the full backing of the law and the next were treated as terrorists.

The campaign for the release of the Armagh Four has received welcome backing from Robert Kee the political broadcaster who believes "The convictions of the Armagh Four are unsafe and unsatisfactory".

Former Labour Party Home Secretary, Merlyn Rees, also supports an inquiry into the case. He says "The main evidence against these men arises from confessions. This, together with a retraction from the main witness, raises reasonable doubts about the sentences imposed."

The FLAG again calls on the authorities to order a re-trial of this case and allow the case to be re-opened.

● MERLYN REES: Support.

Breath of Fresh Air!

MARY ROBINSON'S triumph in the Irish presidential elections is a breath of fresh air in the stale and stagnant room that is Irish politics.

Mrs Robinson resigned from the Irish Labour Party over the signing of the Anglo-Irish Agreement because she considered it unfair to Ulster's one million Unionists.

An Irish politician who understands Unionist fears is something unique in the Republic.

CHRISTIAN SERVICE AXED!

THE TRADITIONAL Christian Service at Westminster Abbey to celebrate Commonwealth Day has been axed after pressure from Race Relations Chiefs.

Now the Queen will be present at the Abbey to hear readings for Hindus, Moslems and Buddhists and prayers for all ethnic minorities living in Britain.

Hari Shukla of Tyne & Wear's Racial Equality Council said "The British people are going to have to learn to accept that ethnic minorities make a great contribution to our society. Their wishes and beliefs must be respected".

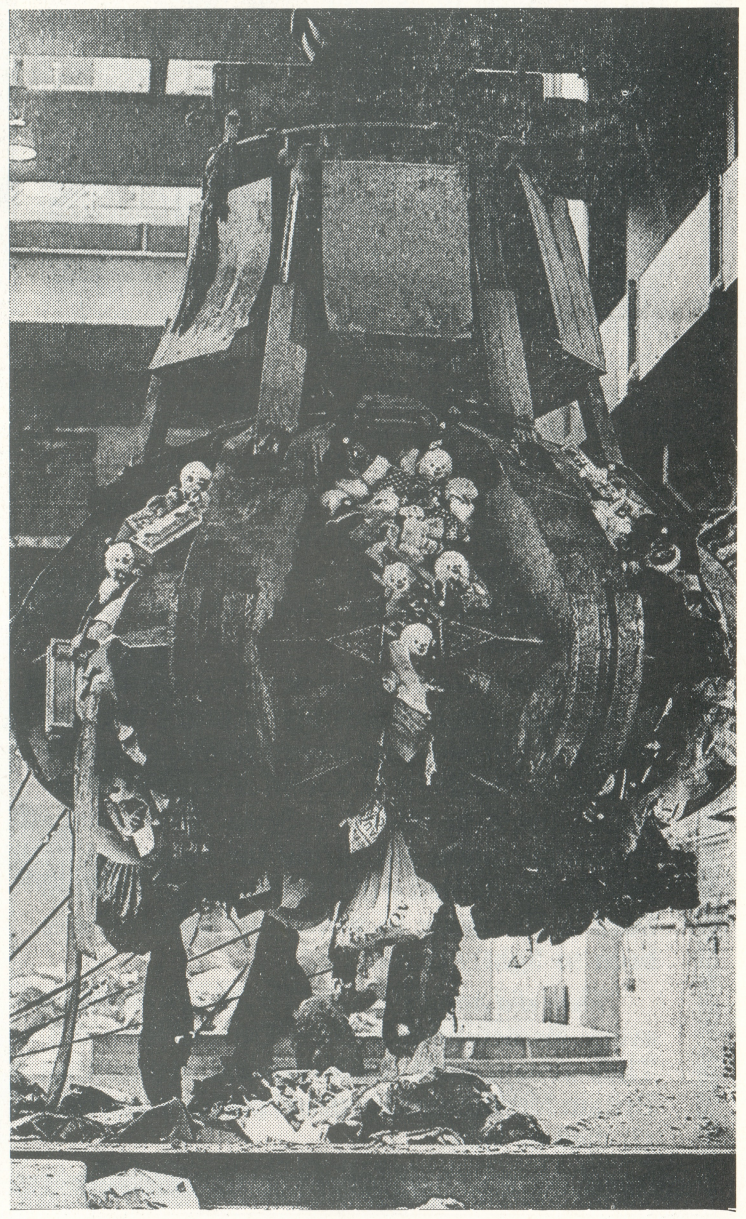
POLLUTER UK

SHELL UK has been warned by the National Rivers Authority for the second time in 28 days after 500 gallons of light fuel oil seeped into the River Mersey.

Only last month 5 tonnes of fuel leaked into the Gowry, a tributary of the Mersey, from a faulty pipe.



Buy British This Christmas

THE PICTURE above shows tons of foreign toys, dumped on the British toy market, being destroyed.

This dangerous rubbish made in the Far East fails all the toy safety standards, yet year after year it makes its way to Britain at Christmas time undercutting British toys and putting our kids at risk.

The National Front says "Buy British this Christmas and make sure your children and a happy and safe celebration".

DERBY-SOCIAL-RAISES-£190 FOR-GENERAL-ELECTION

ON FRIDAY 2nd November Derby National Front held a very succesful social evening in a local club. Over 120 tickets were sold at £3.00 a head with patriotic comedian Al Rich the star turn of the evening. After expenses were paid and together with the proceeds from a raffle and blackout cards, Derby NF committee member Richard Murphy reported a £190 profit which goes to the General Election Fund to put up a candidate in Derby at the General Election.

● STANDING THEIR GROUND: Beckenham National Front organiser Terry Blackham and other NF representatives get the go-ahead to lay a wreath by the Police.

Beckenham NF Behave With Great Dignity

LABOUR AND Conservative Councillors in Beckenham tried to stop NF officials from the Beckenham Branch laying a wreath during their local Remembrance Day ceremony.

NF Organiser, Terry Blackham, together with other NF members behaved with great dignity as local councillors, showed little respect for the solemn occasion, as they tried to stop the National Front laying a wreath.

Police intervened and after consultation with the British Legion and listening to arguments for and against decided that the NF should be allowed to lay a wreath. The decision was welcome by members of the public at the ceremony who had watched in disbelief at the antics of their councillors.

W.H.Smith: Confusion over Adams's Book

THE CAMPAIGN by London North National Front against the selling of IRA apologist Gerry Adams's book in W.H.Smith's shops continues apace.

The bookshop is really squirming. In letters to the National Front, Ivor Stanbrook MP, Rev Martin Smythe MP and Peter Robinson MP, the number of books they claimed to have sold all differ.

In their latest reply to Ivor Stanbrook they claim that they were unable to sell any books and that they have returned stocks to the warehouse.

Whatever the truth of the matter the NF's campaign has clearly worked. W.H.Smith will be thinking twice before they next decide to stock IRA propaganda.

Gulf Talk in Birmingham

NATIONAL FRONT Chairman Ian Anderson was the guest speaker at the November meeting of the Birmingham Branch of the National Front.

Mr Anderson gave an excellent speech on the conflict in the Gulf and the NF's clear policy of protecting British interests only, dictating our actions.

The talk was well received and followed by a lively question time. A collection raised £148.00 while literature sales brought in £25.90.

Branch Organiser, Andrew Skuce, outlined to the meeting plans for leafletting in Northfield and Hodge Hill parliamentary constituencies together with a series of paper sales in Sutton Coldfield.

Birmingham NF will be helping with the campaigns for most of the West Midland seats at the General Election.

Panorama in the New Year

PANORAMA, THE programme that had to fork out a small fortune to Conservative MP's in libel settlements after the infamous 'Maggie's Militant Tendency' programme in 1984, is preparing another programme about the National Front.

Scheduled to appear in January, the programme looks at the Race Issue in Britain today.

Camera crews have been accompanying the NF throughout the last month, including a day with campaign workers in Bradford North.

'Searchlight' boss Gerry Gable who worked as a researcher on 'Maggie's Militant Tendency' won't be involved in the new programme. A BBC producer told NF activists "Mr Gable proved an expensive acquistition last time!"

NF Chairman on TV South-

NF CHAIRMAN, Ian Anderson, has appeared on Television South-West during a programme on the growth of the NF and the Party's attempt to change its image.

Mr Anderson was picked up by car from his London home on the evening of Monday 19th November and driven to Plymouth where he was put up in a hotel. He spent the next morning at the television studios giving extensive interviews before being driven back to London.

Book Burning

A LOCAL Government Ombudsman has turned down a complaint by the Walsall Branch of the National Front that Walsall Council had acted unfairly in in refusing to display NF literature in local libraries.

The Ombudsman said the council decision was taken with aim of promoting racial harmony and this would be undermined if the immigrant community became aware that their presence in Britain was not welcomed by certain sections of the community.

Standing Up for the Poppy Appeal

TORQUAY JEWELLER, David Rowe, couldn't believe it when Torbay Council told him to remove the Poppy Appeal table from outside his shop.

There had been a Poppy Appeal stand there since 1954 and President of the Royal British Legion in Torquay, Rose Banford, said "Mr Rowe has done tremendous work for us, I think it wrong of the Council to tell him to take it away".

Torbay National Front agreed and made sure Mr Rowe's case caught the attention of the press forcing the council to back down. Mr Rowe agreed completely with the NF's Did They Die in Vain leaflet!

APPLAUSE FOR THE FRONT MARCHERS

THE ANNUAL Remembrance Day March to the Cenotaph organised by the National Front took place on Sunday 11th November 1990.

On a crisp, clear afternoon 400 NF members took part in the smartest parade for many years and, despite a demonstration by supporters of the Labour Party, the day passed off peacefully.

Hecklers trying to upset the service at the Cenotaph angered many of the thousands of people watching the parade. These people showed their regard for the NF and our annual ceremony by giving the marchers prolonged rounds of applause as the column left Westminster.

After the march a rally was held at Bressenden Place by Victoria, with speakers including NF Chairman, Ian Anderson, Steve Brady, John Hill and Kelvin Sanderson of the NF Ex-Servicemen's Association.

AT THE Annual General Meeting of the Dudley and Brierley Hill Branch of the National Front the following were elected to committee positions.

Asian Homes, Asian Street Names!

DESPITE OBJECTIONS from local residents the 48 new homes in the Ormerod Street area of Accrington were designed and built by Bradford and Northern Housing Assocoiation especially for Asian Families.

Now, to rub salt into the wounds, the streets on the new development are to have Asian names such as Jannat Close and Medina Close.

British residents who complained have been branded racist and told by Bill Goldsmith, chairman of Hyndburn's Equal Opportunities panel "The Asian Community has done its bit for racial harmony by choosing names that can easily be pronounced by White people".

One resident told 'The FLAG'. "A generation of Accrington's young men was wiped out on the battlefields of Belgium in the First World War. It appears they gave their lives to make make Accrington a fit place for Asians to live in".

No New Books for the British Library

THE BRITISH Library is in danger of losing the right to call itself a library because of the cuts in acquisitions it is having to make as a result of financial pressures.

For the first time in the history of the Library it has stopped buying new books, with scientific textbooks the main casualty.

The Government can squander money on foreign aid and immigrant groups in Britain but can't find the money to replenish the British Library.

George Cross for a Man of Courage

WHEN THE IRA bomb he was dismantling exploded, Warrant Officer Barry Johnson suffered serious eye and leg injuries. He was blinded by the fragments and thrown across the road by the blast. Although in great pain, he refused to be evacuated until he had briefed his assistant so the operation could be safely completed.

For his courage, Barry Johnson, received the George Cross, awarded for the first time in eleven years. Seldom has a medal been so richly deserved.

Covering-Up King's Copying

● KING: Borrowed ideas.

MARTIN LUTHER King didn't have an original idea in his head and his doctoral disseration was copied lock, stock and barrel from another student at Boston University.

The discovery that the Black Civil Rights leader was a cheat was made by King sycophants who were grovellingly putting together yet another fawning work in praise of him.

The group of black students were editing King's college papers when they found that many of the words and ideas had been copied from another student.

The distraught students kept their discovery a secret for three years for fear of tarnishing King's reputation. A stunned Miss Megan Maxwell, an assistant archivist at Stanford University said her initial reaction was a combination of "Why didn't anyone catch him?" and "Why didn't he know better?".

APPROPRIATED

Claybourne Carson, a historian at the same university said "Several of Dr. King's academic papers, as well as his dissertation, contain numerous appropriated passages that can be defined as plagiarism".

The findings, follow on revelations about Martin Luther King's extraordinary sexual appetite and accusations of his dabbling in drugs.

How are the mighty fallen!

Opening Up Britain to the Drug Trade!

BRITAIN'S EVER-deepening entanglement in the Common Market is opening our frontiers ever more to drug smugglers, according to the latest Customs and Excise figures.

These show that more than 40% of drugs seized by Customs last year came from other Common Market countries. The Customs report warned of an even worse flood of drugs after the "Single Market" opens our borders even wider to drug pushers in 1992.

In the year to March, Customs seized record quantities of cannabis, mostly from the Lebanon, Morocco, South America and West Africa. The amount of heroin seized also rose. Turkey was a major supplier. Much of the heroin was imported inside West African Blacks who had swallowed it. "West African couriers using internal body concealment continued to be a problem" warned the Customs report.

Of the 44 kilograms of heroin found being brought in by West African Blacks, 42 had been swallowed. Blacks, mostly West Indians this time, were also the main importers of the cocaine seized by Customs last year.

The Channel Tunnel will open another gateway for the pushers to flood our streets. Yet hardly any of the drugs that kill our kids come from our own country. How many more British youngsters must die sickening and degrading deaths as wretched addicts before we wake up, before we get out of the Common Market, and once more make Britain an island fortress safe from foreign drugs.

● ASIAN BIRTHRATE: Asian women preparing Pizzas for Sainsburys in Wealdstone, Middlesex. Rocketing birthrates in the Third World and the inability of countries to feed their people has led to immigration to Europe.

Steve Brady unravels the latest population returns and comes to the conclusion that there are . . .

TOO MANY THIRD WORLD BABIES!

EVERYONE AGREES the world has a population problem. Every minute there are 177 extra people in the world. Every day an extra 255,000, the equivalent of another London Borough or a large town like Rotherham.

The population of the World passed 4 thousand million in 1974, 5 thousand million in 1987, and is set to pass 6 thousand million in the next nine years. While the World's supply of food and natural resources is strictly limited clearly there is a problem. But whose problem?

Not ours. As we revealed in the last issue of The FLAG, according to the latest official figures the native British population, far from exploding, is actually falling. With each British couple having an average of 1.8 children, we are simply not replacing our numbers. Every generation, our people grow fewer.

Across the White world the picture is much the same. White Americans, for example, have an average of 1.9 children per couple. Our population problem is one of decline. We are dying out. Like dodos and dinosaurs, we face extinction.

It is non-Whites, Blacks, Browns and Yellows, whose population is soaring out of control. For example, according to the latest UNESCO and Population Reference Bureau figures for 1990, while 54 million White Britons have 1.8 children per couple, 835 million Brown Indians have 4.3. 115 million Black Nigerians have 6.6! The reason? 75% of British couples use birth control. Under a third of Indian couples do so. And only one in a hundred Nigerians. No wonder their population is rocketing!

EXTRA PEOPLE

Rocketing far faster than their land can feed them. For example, Africa's population, now 646 million, will reach nearly 900 million in the next nine years. While in the same continent production of food per head is falling steadily. No wonder they are starving!

Of the thousand million extra people who will be added to the World population this decade, over 900 million will come from Africa, Asia and Latin America. Many of the rest will be descended from people who themselves come from that Third World but who have immigrated to Europe and North America. Of the couple of thousand extra faces who have appeared on our world since you started reading this article, very few are White, nearly all are Black or Brown or Yellow.

It's time to face the facts. The world population problem is a problem of too many Blacks, too many Browns and too many Yellows, having too many babies.

THE KILLING OF THE RELIANT ROBIN

ONE ROBIN you won't see around this Christmas is the Reliant Robin. For the Reliant Motor Company which makes the trusty three-wheeler went bust on October 25th. 450 workers in Tamworth Staffs face the dole.

Twenty years ago Reliant proudly boasted it was the second-biggest all-British carmaker. Its Robin may not have been glamorous but, it was tough, cheap to run, easy to maintain and could be driven on a motorbike licence.

For those who did want glamour, Reliant also made the trend-setting GTE sports hatchback, to which the Princess Royal has remained loyal for many years. Reliant also owned Metrocab, the taxi-builders.

Reliant vehicles were models of sound, sturdy British craftsmanship. The company built up over the years a faithful following amongst motorists. Left to itself, the firm would still be running. But in the shark-tank that is the Stock market, a solid, well-founded and much loved British enterprise isn't likely to be left alone.

In May 1989, Reliant was raided and taken over by a consortium of two property speculators. When the collapse in the property market - nothing to do with Reliant's own area of business - hit these sharks, they dragged Reliant down with them. A good, profitable British car firm had to be closed down, and decent Midlands car workers put on the dole, to pay off the losses of a pair of property speculators.

Thought for the Month

"And the angel said unto them. Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord".

Luke. Chapter 2, Verses 10 & 11.

Playing Their Trump Card!

"I don't know what they all got so worried about? Those marginal seats have always been taken care of! Right now, Let's have the first 3,750 to Leeds North West, the next 7,500 to Pendle . . ."

ANOTHER DEADLY FOREIGN IMPORT!

A DEADLY disease brought by foreign Immigrants threatens to wipe out British natives. The threat this time is to the native British Crayfish, a lobster-like denizen of our fresh waterways once prized as a delicacy by our cooks.

According to the Nature Conservancy Council our once-common crayfish will be entirely wiped out within ten years by an incurable fungal infection. An infection imported in Immigrant American signal crayfish introduced by fish farmers.

First spotted here in 1981, the Immigrant disease has wiped out our British crayfish throughout the South of England. Once it gets into a river, it kills all British crayfish downstream of its arrival point "almost immediately", according to Dr. David Alderman of the Ministry of Agriculture Fish Disease Laboratory, Weymouth.

Then it creeps upstream at a rate of four miles a year.

● CRAYFISH: Facing extinction!

Now the imported alien death has reached the Midlands. In one 50-yard stretch of the River Ise, near Kettering, Northants, more than 150 crayfish were found floating dead, victims of foreign Immigration. "The crayfish is probably doomed across the country within the next 10 or so years. They are disappearing wholesale," lamented Rosemary Parslow, Assistant Regional Officer for the NCC in the East Midlands. "It's all rather sad, these are quite splendid creatures. A hundred years ago they were very common". Now our native crayfish are doomed. They will not be the last natives of these islands to be wiped out by foreign Immigration, if things go on as they are . . .

● Verdon-Roe: Aviator

NO PLAQUE FOR AIRCRAFT PIONEER!

PLANS FOR a plaque to be attached to the home of the first Englishman to construct and fly his own plane have been vetoed by Labour Councillors in Salford.

A.V. Roe House, now a centre to help young offenders, was built in the early 19th Century and is the birthplace of aircraft pioneer Sir Alliott Verdon-Roe.

The reason for the blacking of Britain's foremost aviator . . . ? He was a friend of Sir Oswald Mosley, the leader of the British Union of Fascists!

WORDS OF WISDOM

"As high as we have mounted in delight,. in our dejection do we sink as low"

William Wordsworth) Poet. (1770-1850)

WEATHER CRISIS

A Crisis Caused by the Waste Products of Capitalism

THIS SUMMER was the driest in Britain since records began, according to weather experts, the Water Services Association revealed on November 18th.

The WSA, which represents the ten regional water authorities in England and Wales, quoted the experts as saying "the March to September rainfall this year was the lowest since records began in 1727".

Autumn has brought no relief. According to the water authorities, rainfall in the first half of November was "only 50% of normal for that period". So as winter closes in over 17 million Britons are subject to various emergency drought regulations, ranging from sprinkler and hosepipe bans to - for two million residents of parts of London, Kent and Essex - full-scale drought orders restricting industrial as well as domestic use of water.

WORST DROUGHT

As the drought gripping much of Eastern and Southern England shows no sign of letting up, the Water Authorities expect to stay in this state of emergency well into 1991, if the rain comes then.

For the worst drought on record isn't the only thing wrong with Britain's weather. The spate of hurricanes, heatwaves, unseasonably mild winters and so on we have seen here over the last few years, and the droughts, storms, floods and other climatic upheavals across the face of the globe over the same period, are painting an ever clearer picture of a world's weather system in crisis. A crisis scientists call the "Greenhouse Effect".

● THE GREENHOUSE EFFECT: Storms, floods and other climatic upheavals are painting a picture of a world's weather system in crisis.

A crisis whose existence and extent every year makes plainer. A crisis caused by the waste products vomited forth in ever-increasing amounts by the international finance capitalist system. A system which serves only one end - ruthless shortsighted selfish greed. A system which is strangling our World. A system to which there is now only one alternative, the first and original Green Movement, Racial Nationalism. An alternative represented in Britain by the National Front.

Unless the people turn to that alternative, there will be more - and very much worse - bad weather ahead in the global greenhouse.

FRENCH FRONT BACKS BRITAIN!

TEN BRITISH hostages have been freed from Iraq after a visit to the Gulf by Jean-Marie Le Pen, the leader of the French National Front.

The British Government and media totally ignored this event so it is left to the British National Front to thank Mr Le Pen for his successful diplomacy in this matter.

Holocaust in our Hedgerows

PREDATORY PESTS such as crows and magpies are breeding out of control and wiping out Britain's songbirds, and it's all the fault of the Common Market.

Crows and magpies eat the eggs and nestlings of other birds. A pair of magpies will destroy every other birds nest along an entire hedgerow. These predators were kept under control by farmers and gamekeepers, but such control has, in recent years, been increasingly obstructed by bureaucratic interference from Brussels - notably the European Birds Directive!

THREATENED

This originally had a clause, Annexe II Part 3, allowing the shooting of birds which were not rare and which threatened other wildlife, but on June 23rd, 1977, a Council of Ministers quietly deleted this.

"Crows and Magpies are wiping out Britain's Songbirds"

The Brussels Birds Directive was embodied in the British 1981 Wildlife and Countryside Act. This impeded controls of crows and magpies. In the past 30 years the number of magpies has trebled, greatly harming the populations of smaller birds. However the 1981 Act still contained some provision for allowing the control of common birds which harm our wildlife.

Last September Environment Minister David Trippier announced that even these provisions will be removed following a complaint from Germany that such provisions of English Law were illegal under Community Law.

WIPED OUT

So yet again our national independence is brought low before the heel of Brussels bureaucrats, and some of our rarest and most beautiful birds will die because of it. Crows and magpies will increase in number even faster, bringing a holocaust to our hedgerows in which some British birds may be wiped out altogether.

The final irony is that when many of our 'fellow Europeans' are not interfering with us controlling pests which endanger rare birds, they are stuffing their faces with the same rare birds which they regularly eat themselves.

END OF AN ERA

FOR OVER ELEVEN YEARS Margaret Thatcher has won election after election by appealing, however insincerely, to the gut patriotic instincts of the British people. She has repeatedly voiced their concerns, collected their votes and then done nothing.

On Immigration - remember "We are being swamped"? But throughout her premiership less exalted expressers of such concerns, including two NF newspaper editors, were still thrown into jail for speaking out (one twice!) And, needless to say, the Immigrants, despite nationwide riots, are still here.

On Capital Punishment - she has repeatedly voted for it at Tory Conferences and in Parliament. But still killers and terrorists live to murder again.

On Ulster - she has lost two personal friends, Airey Neave and Ian Gow, to the IRA. But still the Provoes kill and still our security forces are held back from wiping them out.

Most recently, on Europe - she has loudly "stood up for Britain" and spoken out against "creeping Euro-federalism". But she signed the Single European Act which in 1992 will subject Britain even more to a "diet of Brussels" and is a clear step to a federal EEC.

However sound on many issues in her words, Mrs. Thatcher in her deeds has consistently toed the internationalist line of the multinational Capitalists who finance her Party. But it seems that even her empty words have made the Tory paymasters nervous.

With Mrs Thatcher now gone the Tory Party can be relied upon not only to dance to whatever tune those who pay the Tory piper choose to call, but to sing along to it as well.

Those who hearken to a different song, a patriotic air, will then have little choice but to break out of the hulk of Toryism and cast in their lot with the one party which marched to that tune all the time, the National Front. In the new Euro-Tory Party there will be no Maggie to steal our words, and our votes.

Victim of her Own Philosophy

"BRING IN the crows to peck the eagle"; and so it was as Margaret Thatcher was unceremoniously deposed from the highest office in the land by her own MPs.

Mrs Thatcher became a victim of Thatcherism, the selfish, shortsighted and uncaring philosophy she advocated for her eleven years in office. Her children, the new breed of Tory MPs now sitting in Westminster, without a second thought, got rid of her when they saw their future threatened by her continuation as Party leader.

Mrs Thatcher destroyed the lives of miners, steelworkers, car workers and shipbuilders because Thatcherism's shortsightedness saw no profit in them. Workers who had served the Nation loyally for decades were dumped without a second thought.

As with the IRA terrorist blown up by his own bomb, sympathy for the victim is misplaced.

A Glimmer of Hope From The Bradford North By-Election!

THE NUMBER of votes polled by NF candidates in Mid-Staffs, Eastbourne and Bradford North has brought home to Nationalists throughout the country the harsh realities of fighting elections. The rhetoric, the claims and the illusions that can be built up when you live in tight little Nationalist circles disappear to nothing when you step out into the real world of British Party Politics.

A tiny glimmer of hope emerged from the Bradford by-election. Tiny but real. The Nationalist vote was up from 198 in the 1983 by-election. The NF vote scraped over the 300 mark and was just short of 1%, the figure that does have a modicum of respectability.

That might appear to be grabbing at straws, but the National Front has just plunged into the political arena after years of inactivity and is entitled to grab at anything until it finds it feet.

There was one positive sign from all three by-elections. The media, who since 1981 have neither reported the NF fairly nor factually appear to have accepted that the Front is now taking itself seriously. Where in Epping Forest it was only reported, "The National Front is also standing", by-elections in 1990 saw an apparently honest effort by the media to report what the NF had to say.

The Great Achiever

IT WAS bound to happen, I suppose, that the Tory Party would eventually rat on its suicide pact with Margaret Thatcher. Having for so long insisted that she was the greatest thing since - well, hemlock - they decided that they just couldn't take it any more.

At the time of writing there are three ghastly nominees for the post of Tory leader - each living in dread that Madam Thatcher might declare her support for him - and all have praised her "great achievements" as have all the other toadies and traitorous lickspittles who make up the Tory parliamentary majority.

The Thatcher-poodling Daily Telegraph published a list of these "achievements" in what was described as a "four page pull-out". Well I've always been a sucker for four page pull-outs so I pulled it out and threw it in the dustbin.

Still, I suppose that it is worthwhile detailing her great achievements, so here goes.

When Madam Thatcher came to power in 1979, the inflation rate was 8.6% - it is now 10.9%.

Britain's manufacturing industry has struggled back to a position where it just produces the same amount as in 1979 - all other countries having surged ahead. She has encouraged - nay bribed - the Japs to buy up our industry and use this country as their "bridgehead into Europe".

Though she is billed as the great tax-cutting Prime Minister, taxes from all sources now account for 37.75% of GNP as opposed to 34.25% in 1979. Taxes have been cut for the wealthy and piled on to the poor.

While posing as an opponent of coloured immigration, immigration has continued unabated during her reign. At her insistence, 250,000 Hong Kong Chinese are to be dumped on our doorstep in addition to the veritable flood of Third World "political refugees" clogging our airports and being supported by the taxpayer.

Unemployment is 2.4 million and rising. She has sold off the family silver. She has squandered the never to be repeated benefits of North Sea oil.

She has personally involved Britain in the Gulf in order that she might strut the world stage as an international statesman. It is an area where Britain has no interests and can reap no benefit but could well incur lasting enmity and damage to our economy.

No doubt she has many other such achievements but those will do to be going on with. She is truly one of the greatest leaders in history. After all, she has done to this country something that Adolph Hitler couldn't.

The Great Labour Disaster

NOT SURPRISINGLY, the reaction of the British public to the departure of the appalling posturing phoney Margaret Thatcher has been one of great elation, in fact outright euphoria. Such is the sense of relief that the massive lead that the Labour Party enjoyed in the opinion polls has been wiped out overnight with the Tories now favourites to win the next election - all of which proves conclusively that the great British electorate is either the most frivolous or the most gormless in the whole wide world or possibly both simultaneously.

So it is that the grief of the Thatcher loyalists is as nothing compared to the total desolation within the ranks of the Labour Party. They will never forgive Michael Heseltine for stabbing Labour in the back.

After all, they were positively relying on Madam Thatcher to win the next election for Labour. Now she has gone they will have to rely on the talents of their very own posturing phoney; Neil the Pooh - the bore of very little brain - the unprincipled, shallow, halting, drivelling, ANC clenched-fist waving, Sambo-adoring opportunist.

A week is a long time in politics and during that week they've lost their ace of trumps and been dealt a dog-eared little old knave of spades.

The Ted Budden Column

His comments and observations do not necessarily reflect NF Policy.

"I myself spent several weeks in hiding having unwittingly sold some rusty old drain pipe to a totter"

Next on the Hit List

IT DOESN'T seem possible that it was only a few months ago that the Great Iraqi Super Gun affair occupied the front pages of our newspapers day after day. You will recall that lengths of pipe destined for the Iraqi oil installations were alleged to be parts of a fiendish supergun being built by the vile Saddam Hussein to lob shells into Israel, thereby contravening the law of the civilised world that shells and bombs may only be lobbed in the opposite direction.

Two hapless manufacturers of oil pipe were arrested by the Thatcher secret police and charged with complicity. Such was the intensity of the Thatcher terror that pipe manufacturers everywhere were to be found clutching brochures detailing desirable residences in S. America and feverishly enquiring about air service to Rio. I myself spent several weeks in hiding having unwittingly sold some rusty old drain pipe to the local totter. British lorry drivers were seized by foreign police forces and held for weeks as agents of the merchants of death.

Then, strangely, it all went quiet. Now this farcical episode has been concluded with the Customs and Excise quietly dropping all charges against the unfortunate pipe manufacturers.

So what does that prove? Well, merely that Thatcher, acting in collusion with the Americans, was aiming to isolate and overthrow the Iraqis long before Saddam afforded America and its stooges a pretext for military action by annexing Kuwait.

When Iran was enemy number one, the West supported Iraq- With Iran neutralised, Iraq emerged as the only potential threat to Israeli domination of the Middle East.

I see that American Secretary of State James Baker has just been visiting President Assad of Syria to ensure his continued participation in the hostile forces ranged against Iraq, despite the fact that Assad has long been denounced as an international terrorist and a threat to world peace. Assad's army is ranged against Iraq because of his hatred for Saddam and his fear of superior Iraqi strength.

He should be more circumspect. If Iraq is neutralised, the only potential threat to Israeli domination is Syria. Assad goes top of the hit list.

Paying the Real Price

A YEAR or so ago, Southern Water introduced metering of water supplies on the Isle of Wight. This, said the company, was because the residents of that pleasant isle were using too much water and it was too costly for the company.

The customers duly discovered that water metering meant that their bills trebled or even quadrupled and readily agreed to assist the company by using less water.

So they flushed the lavatories with washing-up water. They watered the garden with water used for cooking. They used so little water in their baths that it was barely deep enough to cover their essentials. They were still paying far more than before but they saved an awful lot of water.

Now newly privatised Southern Water has announced that, due to the fact that the Isle of Wight is using less water, there will have to be massive increases in the price of water.

Heads they win, tails we lose. That is the magic formula of Thatcher's wonderful free enterprise private monopolies.

I have just received an advert through my door from the soon-to-be privatised South Eastern Electricity Board. It offers me a special rate for the insulation of my house which will save me positively masses on my electricity bill.

Oh yes? I really don't think I'll bother you know.

Not Necessary to Comment!

SOME MONTHS ago the Cardinal of New York required all visitors to his Cathedral of St Andrew to sign an affirmation against racism. Presumably this action has the support of the present Pope.

I have just read through the 40 volumes of Von Pastor's Lives of the Popes; 1300 to 1800. On page 292 of Volume XIII is the line " . . . marriages with coloured people not being considered fitting". This is a comment by Von Pastor himself and refers to the conquistadors taking native mistresses.

So the subject was topical centuries ago, but there is not a single comment for or against Black and White marriages by any Pope between 1300 and 1800. The conclusion must surely be obvious. Marriages between people of different races was so unacceptable that it was not considered necessary to comment on it.

Death of a Demagogue

THE POCKET Oxford Dictionary describes demagogue as "Democratic orator or agitator". Whether this description fits Meir Kahane the self-proclaimed Guardian of the Jewish Faith, who was gunned down as he addressed his followers in New York last month, is debatable.

He was an orator and agitator, but he and his Kach Party were not allowed by the Israeli Government to be democratic. He advocated the removal of all non-Jews from Israel, by force if necessary, and was keen to see the country return to orthodox Judaism. The way he attracted the attention of the foreign media with this viewpoint proved unacceptable to the Israelis and he was expelled from the Knesset and Kach banned despite commanding the support of one in eight Israelis in elections.

Israeli newspapers refused to cover his meetings or what he said. Israel gagged Kahane because they were embarrassed by what he said.

In reality there is very little difference between what the Kach Party stood for and the thinking behind Shamir's Government of today - probably only differing in the presentation of policy.

To me, however objectionable his views, Kahane stood head and shoulders above the likes of Shamir and Begin because, unlike those leaders of Israel, he was open about the goals he aimed for. He did not veil his policies in lies and deceit. He did not placate the West with silken words while beating the Arabs with an iron rod. Kahane was the real face of Israel.

Bible Makes it Clear

TORIES, LABOUR and Liberals have been selecting their prospective parliamentary candidates for the forthcoming General Election. Among the Westminster hopefuls have been an ever-increasing number of Africans, Asians and West Indians.

At the election the British people should only vote for British candidates. Who says so? The Bible! Deuteronomy 17:15 leaves the reader in no doubt. "One from among thy brethren shalt thou set King over thee. Thou mayest not set a stranger over thee, which is not thy brother".

For God and Family vote National Front.

Increasing the Danger

He is a specialist and his views are usually heard with respect but he chooses a strange example to support his case. He says a woman patient became infected with AIDS from her husband who was bisexual.

The implication is that he had relationships with other men so his marriage can hardly be called normal. Why do the authorities keep on trying to deny what is so obvious to everyone. AIDS is a gay disease and decent men and women have nothing to fear from it.

Keith Wood,
Newcastle.

Spot On Policy

I WRITE to say how pleased I am that the National Front is refraining from supporting the Thatcher/Bush adventurism in the Gulf.

As a disappointed and disillusioned Nationalist of 18 years standing, it gives me a glimmer a hope to see the present National Front not rushing in regardless to support just any military action by our troops.

Blind patriotism will just lead the NF into yet another dark alley. Discerning and well thought out patriotic policies will find support throughout all sections of the British community.

Donald Litteton,
Oxford.

Candidates for the Garden!

KENT, THE Garden of England is fertile ground for the National Front and I am disappointed to see that, as yet, no candidates have been selected to fight seats in Kent at the next General Election.

Gillingham, Maidstone, and Tonbridge & Malling are the sort of seats the NF should be fighting. These towns have always had a firm base of National Front while only the organisation and activity of a local branch has been missing from making these areas fertile for the Front.

I know many people would come forward to offer their help if they thought the NF was going to fight one of these seats.

★ LOST SHEEP: The Church should be helping homosexuals realise the fulfilment of family life and warning them of the health risks of sodomy.

The Church is a Disgrace

SO THE Church of England is refusing to disclose its new guidelines on homosexuals. Hardly surprising after the revelations last month from Canon Eric James, a chaplain to the Queen, that one in five clery are queer.

Canon James, in a Channel Four documentary also revealed that being a sodomite helps get promotion in the Church of England. "Many pastors who have become bishops and principals of theological colleges are homosexuals and this has been an advantage in a pastoral ministry". He told a flabbergasted interviewer.

Well I for one find the whole sordid affair disgusting. Homosexuals should get spiritual help from the Church to show them the error of their ways and the joys of the natural fulfilment of family life, not support for their sickness.

The whole hierarchy of the Church should be sacked and replaced with practising Christians drawn from every day life. Our churches would soon be full again if the Church identified with the real issues of the day and not just the interests of a sick and perverted minority.

FLAG SPORT

No Problem For Yorkshire Cricket Club

YORKSHIRE CRICKET Club have resisted the media-inspired pressure to change their rules and allow overseas players to register with them.

At a Leeds hotel on Tuesday 27th November the committee voted by 15 to 5 to keep the Status Quo.

As a sop to the Race Relations lobby the club have relaxed the born in Yorkshire rule to include people who have lived in Yorkshire for a long time, but club's members don't see that as a problem.

An ecstatic Yorkshire Club member told The FLAG "We will still be represented by Yorkshiremen next season!". On the change in rules he said it would have no effect.

The tiny group of members who want Yorkshire to select Indian and Pakistani cricketers for the county received yet another blow when it was announced that after 500 letters were sent out in Gujerati, Urdu and Bengali, inviting players to nets in Bradford only four people turned up and out of those no one was suitable.

RUGBY UNION is the most physical of all team sports. Practically no holds are barred and no prisioners are taken as the two teams provide an incredible spectacle that draws mummurs of appreciation even from those who know little of the game.

It had always been a sportman's game. Despite the crashing tackles and constant injuries the contest was played in a wonderful spirit.

At international level when New Zealander Colin Meades was sent off in 1967 for losing his temper everyone connected with the game were stunned. Meades himself cried as he trudged to the changing room so embarrassed that he had disgraced his team and his country. He was only the second player to be sent off at international level in the games then 100 year history.

This year eight players have been sent off in international matches, a testimony to the rise in violence in the game and fall in general sportmanship.

Rugby Union needs a drastic overhaul. Some of the punch-ups on the field of play this year have been X-certificate and exposed the players involved as mindless thugs just slugging it out. People who bring the game into disrepute at this level should never be invited to play for their country again.

Christmas Tips!

• MITCHELL: Christmas cheer

TO GET your Christmas money The FLAG's punters should look no further than Epsom trainer Philip Mitchell and his novice hurdlers.

He has some corkers in his yard, and despite a very disappointing start to his campaign we understand things are now ready to roll.

Sylvan Tempest is our three star nap. He had a lovely introduction at Windsor and is ready to win next time. Kings Shilling has twice let down his supporters but the experience he has gained has set him in good stead. Making up the trio is Colway Bay. Thrown in the deep end this hurdler is just below top class.

• CITY CHAIRMAN: Samesh Kumar

Money Calls the Tune!

THE ANNOUCEMENT that St Andrews, the home of Birmingham City Football Club, is to be turned into a £30 million sports complex in which the club will play should have all Blues fans jumping for joy. . . but it hasn't.

The plan, unveiled by City Chairman Samesh Kumar, was greeted with a stony silence at a recent supporters meeting.

The FLAG believes there should be concern at the plans. Birmingham City FC is a mid-table Third Division club attracting crowds of 7-8,000 for a home game. They have known better days and have the potential to attract bigger crowds when they achieve success.

There is no way that the project could be financed by the club itself so the £30 million comes from outside football, 50% from Tiny Rowlands Lonrho Company.

The Sports Complex will include cinemas, an athletic arena, shops, schools and a hundred and one other things. It's an ambitious project and claims to open a new era for sport in Birmingham.

But what of Birmingham City F.C. They will have to move from their ground and share with Walsall or West Bromwich while work is being done. Investment in the team will have to stop as all their resources are ploughed into the new project. Crowds will dwindle because ground-sharing schemes seldom work and the Fourth Division could loom.

Now will Lonhro and their cronies want their spanking new sports complex to be the home of a struggling club from the lower divisions? Methinks not. With Aston Villa out-growing Villa Park it will be on the cards that any new sports complex must accomodate them as well!

To share a their St Andrews Ground with Villa would be more than the average Blues fans could stomach. But in football today it's money that calls the tune and the St Andrews faithful would have to take the medicine.

National Front Oppose IRA March

ON SUNDAY 25th November in Manchester around 300 assorted Communist and Immigrant groups paraded through the streets chanting IRA, IRA, IRA . . . Their march was protected by hundreds of Police Officers who obviously found the job to be very distasteful - protecting IRA supporters while IRA bombs are going off in Northern Ireland.

Nearly 100 National Front members from the North-West turned up to oppose the march. With Senior Police Officers having clearly been given orders to keep our people away from the march, NF members had to suddenly become Sunday afternoon shoppers, examining the peppers and mangoes in the local grocery shops. As the march passed by these Sunday shoppers indicated their displeasure by holding up Union Jacks, anti-IRA posters and copies of The FLAG.

The Police who were expecting one large group of protesters were completely unprepared for the dozens of small groups who were vociferously shouting their views on IRA supporters being allowed to march on our streets. As soon as one group was moved on another sprang up to take its place.

Many individual policemen said they were pleased to see the National Front was prepared to mobilize opposition to the murderers of the IRA and eagerly tucked away inside their blue anoraks the copies of The FLAG offered to them.

During the march buckets could be seen going up and down the column collecting money that will end up buying guns for the IRA.

Peter Brooke, Secretary of State for Northern Ireland is still fiddling with his latest initiative to try to do a deal with the people who want to run Ulster from Dublin.

Even when their own MPs are being killed by the IRA the Tories still don't have the guts to take on the terrorists and their supporters. Instead they let them parade through our streets. Only the Loyalists in Northern Ireland and the National Front on the mainland are prepared to take on these murderers and their associates to make sure that Ulster remains British forever.
